The Month of May 2010 Was One To Remember...

The month started with the arrival of a large number of new paintings by many of the artists who exhibit at the Beauchamp Art Galleries. To name but a few...Stephanie Delisle, who exhibits at the Beauchamp Art Gallery located at 50, rue Notre-Dame, was busy at work and brought along some beautiful new creations. Valerie Allard, who also exhibits at the same Beauchamp Art Gallery, also delivered many of her new pieces illustrating little summer cocktail dresses... Cathy Bélanger, amazed everyone with her colourful and joyful, flower bouquets. As for Angela Morgan's paintings, they are more whimsical than ever.

Furthermore, this past month was not only overflowing with new paintings but also with Martin Beaupré's creative energy...Martin Beaupré was getting prepared for his big event held on May 15th at Espace Gallery B8.

For the past three months Martin was busy at work creating 53 paintings for his Nouveau-Genre Private View titled 'The Journey of my Soul'. Each painting was made with the measurements appropriate for the space it was to be exhibited in. Martin Beaupré also put together a special painting-choreography that he presented live in front of the audience. All were in awe of seeing him painting with brush strokes in perfect unison to the Japanese music that was playing.

Dressed in an authentic boudhist-zen monk kimono, wearing Japanese wood sandals called Geta's inside which he wore Japanese socks called Tabi's, Martin Beaupré represented the perfect image of a person who is in harmony with life and all that it has to offer. Martin Beaupré, a true passionate artist who has no limits...as he says so himself 'it is us who create limits for ourselves, for the universe knows that they do not exist, everything is possible if you have faith in life and in yourself'... A man true to his beliefs, true to his art. Martin Beaupré; an extraordinary artist, an amazing person...a couple of minutes spent with him or spent gazing at one of his paintings and you are suddenly filled with hope.

This Private View proved to be an immense success, thanks to the 625 people who were present that evening. This never seen before concept of a Private View was the great idea of Ms. Josée-Gabrielle La Bar. Ms. La Bar was inspired to organize a Private View of this kind when the Beauchamp Family, for who she works for, acquired the space located at 49 rue St-Pierre.

The Beauchamp Family and its team thank all the partners and sponsors whose participation was truly appreciated. With their collaboration and the great work of the Beauchamp team, people who attended were able to view fabulous paintings, watch amazing art performances all while eating fresh sushi from the Yuzu Sushi restaurant and drink free Sake from the Nihonsakari Sake House, free tea from the Camellia Sinensis Tea House, as well as refresh themselves with Saporo Japanese Beer. Special thanks to Mr. Alain-Olivier Chouinard, known as Ammasan, for his precious Amma-Assis massage to the people who were willing during the night of the performance.

Many talented artists were also reunited on the 15th of May. Never having met before, but all being on the same wave length, it was not surprising to see how all these artists got along and that the evening was such a success. Special thanks to Tai Wei Foo, professional actress and dancer, for her magnificent performance, a unique traditional dance, and to the Taiko musicians group, directed by Mr. Kim, for their great sense of rhythm with their Taiko drums and the Koto.

A special thanks to Mrs. Iris Germain from Japon-Quebec Communication who was so generous with her time concerning the choice of Kimonos and accessories. Special thanks to Mélanie Hébert who so nicely put together the hair of the three Geishas and did a quick change of hairdo for Tai Wei Foo's final performance. Thank you to Genevieve Lapierre who did the Geisha make-up. Last but not least, special thanks to Mr. Luc Savard from Public Cité for filming the entire evening...no matter the lack of space usually needed for this hardy task...

Thank you to all those who attended the evening, it is nice to know that Art can attract such a large crowd...

As you can see, a Private View such as this one needs much planning, that is why the next event comparable to this one will be held around the middle of November. Continue to read the blog or the Carnet des Arts to be posted for the next event to come...

Do not miss the next exhibition held at Espace Galerie B8, at 49 rue St-Pierre, on the 30th of June 2010. This time around, the paintings presented will be those of Melan.
